

NURSE EDUCATION PRACTICE QUALITY AND RETENTION PROGRAM

Primary care nurses can be leaders in providing individual and population health care that promotes health and prevents disease.

The NEPQR program at the University of Utah College of Nursing strives to increase access to basic primary care for Utahns living in rural communities or areas where medical care is hard to find. The program helps nursing students and primary care nurses working in medically underserved communities gain knowledge and skills through education and professional development.

@UofUNEPQR

utahnepqr.org

@UofU_NEPQR

NEPQR TRAINING PROGRAMS

---

Primary Care Nurse Learning Community: monthly webinar, third Wednesdays from 12:00-1:00 MT

Connecting Through Telehealth: a Guide to Virtual Primary Care for Providers, Patients, Families & Caregivers. A 4 module course that will increase your telehealth competencies. To access courses go to utahnepqr.org/telehealth-education or click here

RN-LED WOMEN'S HEALTH: Education and training can enhance nurses' skills to provide routine women's health screening. These educational modules will be paired with future on-site training

RN-LED DEMENTIA CARE: This webinar series explores nurse-led care management protocols and assessing patient/caregiver support needs

RN-LED OPIOID USE DISORDER TREATMENT: Offers training for nurses to lead rural primary care teams in treating opioid use disorder

DIVERSITY, INCLUSION, & EQUITY IN HEALTHCARE TRAINING MODULE: Learn how to design inclusive practices that minimize barriers to care

To learn more about our events, visit our website at utahnepqr.org.

